

Census Deadline is Today: October 15

Deadline amended per Supreme Court ruling granting a stay of the order that had extended the Census deadline to October 31.

The Supreme Court has issued a ruling granting a stay of the order that had extended the Census deadline to October 31. The Census Bureau has now announced the end of the Census effective October 15. The Supreme Court's decision allows for the underlying appeal to continue in the lower courts and we will update residents if the deadline is extended.

The Village's response rate remains at 88%. The remaining 12% of Village households that have not yet responded may do so today by phone or online. The Census Bureau estimates that each resident that is counted under the census represents $18,250 in federal funding allocated to the state and local governments over the span of the next ten years.

In March, homes across the country received invitations to complete the 2020 Decennial Census. One member of each household may respond in one of three ways: online, by phone, or by mail.

Why respond? Aside from it being your civic duty and required under the U.S. Constitution, the results determine how federal funds are distributed for improving highway systems and grants for special education, congressional representation, and boundaries for congressional, state legislative and school districts.

For every Marylander counted, the state will gain $18,250 over 10 years and will lose that same amount for everyone not counted. To put that into perspective, 17,000 Marylanders were not counted in the 2010 Census. If you multiply that 17,000 times $18,250, Maryland would lose $310,250,000 in federal funding over 10 years. Why should that money be allowed to go to other states when we need it here?

Feeling competitive? In 2000, the Village ranked 3rd with a 92% response rate among all 157 Maryland municipalities. In 2010, we ranked 4th with a response rate of 88%. But we know we can do better and we are aiming for a 100% response rate in the 2020 decennial census!
